

OLD HOUSE INN

(Our abode for three glorious days)

Latticed windows, wonky ceilings and oak-beams give away the age of this converted farm worker's cottage before it was lovingly renovated and transformed into The Old House Inn, a true country dining pub with rooms. Situated just minutes from Gatwick Airport yet with a surprisingly remote feel, here at The Old House Inn you'll find outstanding British food, great local ales and wine and elegant accommodation.

The building itself dates back to the early 16th century and since this time, The Old House Inn has fulfilled a number of roles including family home, Tea Rooms and even a well-regarded French Restaurant. However, so comfortable is it in its transformation, one can't help but wonder if it shouldn't have been a pub all along.

Every inch of The Old House Inn offers classic countryside charm. Think a series of interlinking rooms with low ceilings, nooks and crannies galore, warm rustic fabrics, comfy banquette seating and chunky leather armchairs. Retro accessories, copper, brass, candles and crackling log fires complete the look.
